Lilliendahl Woman And Poultry Farmer Given 10-Year Terms

Widow and Her Alleged Paramour, Willis Beach, White-haired Man, Sentenced at Mays Landing, N. J., to Hard Labor for Murder of Doctor.

RULE "VOLUNTARY MANSLAUGHTER" IN DEATH OF AGED HUSBAND

Contrary to Expectations, Counsel for Mrs. Lilliendahl Makes no Motion for New Trial on Ground of New Evidence Despite Hints of Negroes' Confession.

"MURDER IN FIRST DEGREE," SAYS JUDGE IN PRONOUNCING SENTENCE

MAYS LANDING, N. J., Dec. 10.—"Why the jury brought in that verdict of voluntary manslaughter I do not know. This crime was, beyond question, murder in the first degree."

This statement was made from the bench in supreme court here today by Justice Campbell, who presided over the trial of Willis Beach and Mrs. Margaret Lilliendahl, convicted of voluntary manslaughter for the killing of the woman's aged husband.

Justice Campbell then pronounced sentence of 10 years at hard labor for the two defendants, the maximum prison term under the law.

MAYS LANDING, N. J., Dec. 10.—Mrs. Margaret Lilliendahl and her alleged paramour, Willis Beach, white-haired poultry farmer, today were sentenced to 10 years at hard labor for the killing of the woman's aged husband, Dr. William Lilliendahl. They were convicted by a jury last Thursday of "voluntary manslaughter," which under the New Jersey laws involves a maximum sentence of ten years imprisonment, or $1,000 fine, or both. There is no minimum sentence. The lightest sentence possible would have been a $1,000 fine.

Contrary to previous announcements, Robert McCarter, counsel for Mrs. Lilliendahl, did not make a motion for a new trial on the ground of newly discovered evidence. He told the court that his evidence was not yet completed, and that therefore he would wait. He can make the application any time within six months. It had been intimated by defense counsel that they had obtained a confession from two Negroes. It has been the defense contention throughout that the aged doctor was slain by Negroes, who also attacked Mrs. Lilliendahl.

ATLANTA WOMAN TELLS JURORS SLAIN WIFE WAS LOYAL TO REMUS

COURT HOUSE, Cincinnati, Dec. 10.—Severe cross-examination today of Mrs. Elizabeth Felix, a dark eyed cultured woman of Birmingham, Ala., at the trial of George Remus for the murder of his wife, Imogene, failed to shake her story that Mrs. Remus, whom she knew intimately in Atlanta, led a "blameless" life and was loyal to the man who shot and killed her.

Mrs. Felix, wife of a construction contractor, reiterated under a fire of questions from Defense Attorney Charles H. Elston that Mrs. Remus behaved herself with propriety while Remus was behind the prison walls in Atlanta for violation of the prohibition law.

Defense witnesses have tried to show that Remus was driven insane by his wife's alleged conduct with Franklin L. Dodge, the dry sleuth, who had him put in jail.

JUANITA OLIVER, 12, BADLY BURNED WHEN OIL IS THROWN ON FIRE

Juanita Oliver, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Oliver, Cadmus street, was badly burned about the face and chest in an oil explosion while she was kindling a fire at 11 o'clock this morning.

Flames burst from the door of the stove, igniting the child's dress, and she poured kerosene onto the embers. Her mother, hearing the child's screams, rushed to her assistance and beat out the flames.

The girl was taken to the City hospital in an automobile. Her burns were dressed by Dr. C. R. Campbell. The child is believed to have inhaled the flames.

Fire starting in the roof, damaged a two-story frame dwelling, owned and occupied by E. Stakis, Sunnyside avenue and Block alley, Pleasant Heights, at 12:50 o'clock this morning. The blaze was discovered by Stakis. The loss is estimated at $200.

BURY "RAGE" MURDER VICTIM

Today

L. A. Still Growing. Wide Open for Three. Go Back, 5,000 Years. Plan to Fight Crime.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune.)

THIS Santa Fe train slides down through the Cajon Pass to the biggest citrons and vineyards in the world. Your dining car neighbor assures you that in 10 years Los Angeles will be the biggest city in the world. He is not discouraged by the fact that New York is gaining 200,000 a year.

THE Examiner meets you with a statement that Los Angeles' population is now about 1,300,000, not counting big connecting cities. Population gains 100,000 a year, another city added to Los Angeles every 365 days.

THE biggest cities once on the Mediterranean moved to the Atlantic after Vasco De Gama's visit to the Zamorin of Calicut had transferred Europe's commerce from the Mediterranean to the Atlantic and ruined Venice.

THE world moves westward and the great cities of the world will be on the Pacific or near its edge in the next century. New York and Chicago must be reconciled to that, although flying machines may take the place of water. Airships make the real ocean the air and every city a seaport.

NEW YORKERS that made up their minds to nominate Mr. Hughes as the man to beat Gov. Smith in New York state now learn from Mr. Hughes that he won't run, and President Coolidge says that he does not choose, so the nomination is wide open for three men—Hoover, Dawes, Lowden. But if you had a million dollars for each proud American now working to get the nomination away from these three and firmly convinced he will get it you would be the richest man in the world.

LAST August the stock market broke when President Coolidge's first "I do not choose" came out, and on Wednesday last that foolish market broke again because the President said he meant it. What frightened the stock brokers and speculators? Do they think Hoover, Lowden or Dawes would declare war on Patagonia, abandon the gold standard, suspend the writ of habeas corpus, close factories, stop the rainfall and destroy crops? Mr. Coolidge is a good President, wisely allowing those that know how to run the country's business run.

FLAPPER WIDOW GAY AS SLAIN HUSBAND GOES TO HIS GRAVE

Mrs. Velma West Fails to Attend Funeral.

WILL SEEK BOND

Perry, O., Woman May be Tried for Manslaughter.

PAINESVILLE, O., Dec. 10.—While Thomas Edward West, 26, is being laid to rest at Perry, Ohio, this afternoon, Velma West, his 21-year-old "flapper widow," who has confessed that she beat him to death with a claw hammer last Tuesday night, will remain in solitary confinement in the Lake county jail here, with her cigarettes and her "Modern Romance" magazines.

Used Hammer to Kill. No desire has been evidenced by the young woman to attend the funeral or to see the body of the man with whom she eloped only a year ago, according to county authorities. West, she declares, maligned her friends and slapped her face, when she threatened to leave him Tuesday night. At the height of a "blind rage" she picked up the hammer and struck him on the head, according to the confession.

Becoming frightened when he attempted to rise, she struck him again, tied his hands and feet with twine and threw a blanket over the prostrate form.

JERRY HOWELL TO BE BROUGHT HERE ON GUN, HOLD-UP COUNTS

Steubenville Police Will Surrender Ex-convict.

CHECK UP PLOT

Charge Prisoner Planned Robbery of Messenger.

Jerry Howell, ex-convict and alleged stick-up man, under arrest at Steubenville as a suspect in holdups and robberies in Jefferson county, probably will be turned over to Columbiana county authorities to face charges of highway robbery and shooting with intent to kill. Chief of Police McDermott said today.

Steubenville authorities are holding Howell pending an investigation into his alleged career of crime in that vicinity. According to police, he has been identified as the man who entered the home of Meyer Wisenthal, 2017 Sunset boulevard, Steubenville, about two weeks ago, where a haul of jewelry and money was made from guests.

SEEKING "PEACE IN BITUMINOUS COAL INDUSTRY BY CHRISTMAS," SECRETARY OF LABOR DAVIS CALLS PARLEY FOR DECEMBER 13

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Emulating the famous endeavor of Henry Ford to "get the boys out of the trenches by Christmas," Secretary of Labor James J. Davis today launched an effort to obtain "peace in the bituminous industry by Christmas."

To this end he has invited bituminous operators of western and central Pennsylvania, northern West Virginia and Ohio and leaders of the United Mine Workers to meet here on Dec. 13, "for a frank discussion of problems affecting the mining industry, with the object of bringing about, if possible, a satisfactory and peaceful situation."

Davis pointed out in his invitation that the conference was called "with the knowledge of President Coolidge. He expressed the belief that his meeting "may witness a decided step in the direction" of peace in the bituminous industry by Christmas, so that the holidays may see a situation in soft coal mining satisfactory not only to operators and miners but to business in general in all the districts that have been affected by existing conditions. I am sanguine that the conference I have called will result in clearing up a situation that has caused much suffering by innocent people and is rapidly becoming intolerable," Davis said. "We all know that the people of the United States are perfectly willing to pay for their coal a price that will yield a good profit and a good wage, but in return for the price they want their coal in a dependable and unbroken supply and without the present stoppages and fluctuations in price that constantly disturb American industry. "I believe the American people are willing and anxious to see the coal mining industry properly organized and brought up to the standards of efficiency maintained in all the other great industries."

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 10.—Secretary of Labor James J. Davis' peace conference for soft coal miners and operators today appeared foredoomed to failure, if it materializes.

The Pittsburgh Coal company, largest individual soft coal mining company in the world, will respectfully decline the secretary's proffered olive branch, according to a statement issued by C. E. Leshar, executive president of the company.

Horace F. Baker, president of the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal corporation, in another statement, indicated he "might" accept, if the miners' union will discuss something else besides the Jacksonville wage scale, the focal point in the present controversy.

ASSESSORS MEET COMES TO CLOSE

Annual meeting of the assessors of the state closed yesterday at Charleston with final technical instructions from department heads of the state tax commissioner's office.

Governor Gore was the chief speaker. The executive took occasion to favor the issuance of $25,000,000 additional bond bonds, declaring that it is not a question of taxation but a business proposition.

The governor also spoke briefly in favor of meeting the capital question on its merits, not leaving it to future administrations and legislatures as to whether the state should have a home for its government. He pointed out that the second unit of the capital is about completed, having been constructed at a cost of about $1,270,000 while the building was limited by law to $1,400,000.

The afternoon was spent by the assessors in discussing their various problems. The question of equalization was discussed and individual assessors said they would put forward efforts in 1928 to bring values in their respective counties to a standard figure as nearly as possible.

Bible Class Entertained. Members of the Bible class of the First Presbyterian church met last night in the manse, Indiana avenue. Following the business session a social hour was enjoyed during which refreshments were served.

Stage Headliners In Jazz Week Bill

Former Zeigfeld Folies Stars and Revue, With Two Feature Pictures, Coming to Ceramic Theatre.

Jazz week will open at the Ceramic theatre Monday, with a palatable ment of stage headliners and feature pictures. Eddie Cook and the Shaw Sisters, featured stars with the Zeigfeld Folies, and known as king and queen of saxophones, will offer the vaudeville bill Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday in conjunction with the picture, "The Gay Retreat," starring Ted McNamara and Sammy Cohen, comedy team in "What Price Glory."

Sweet's big revue—five girls and one man—will feature oddities in song and dance on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, when Reginald Denny, in "Out All Night," will be the screen attraction.

"The Gay Retreat," one of the cleverest and funniest war comedies of the year.

The plot of this uproarious farce is built about the adventures of a handsome young sleepwalker and his two faithful buddies—his former butler and chauffeur—who have been detailed to France by his father to take care of the house of Wright.

To begin with they start for France A. W. O. L. from their own unit because a husky sergeant with a single track mind will not listen to their explanation that they are trying to catch the train on which their company is leaving, and so they are hustled to join another outfit under the direct and very careful supervision of the sergeant himself.

And having started out by getting in trouble and they keep up the good work all through the war—never deliberately, but always through some comic situation that arises. And true to form and fulfilling the fears of his father the handsome young Wright wanders around No Man's Land in his sleep and has some surprising adventures.

However, in the end they return as heroes—young Wright with a charming French girl as his wife and one of his two faithful followers with a rolly-polly French barnaid.

Thomas is to fill the unexpired term ending February 8, 1929. He is credited with being the veteran judge of Scioto county.

The governor selected former State Representative R. F. Kimball, Portsmouth, an attorney, to succeed Judge Thomas on the common pleas bench for the term ending Feb. 9, 1931.

CHAPTER XIV.

Yet it was not that which worried Lois Borden, unfair as it was. The thing which preyed upon her mind was the fact that Bob was not entirely out of contact with life. Some where he had discovered human interests. John Carmody, of course, that silken-voiced, ultra-courteous man who controlled the city, county and a goodly part of the state.

And Kathleen Shannon.

Lois didn't know Kathleen and could not understand why she hated the girl. It did not occur to her that she was jealous. She thought simply that she was afraid for Bob because the kindly Bruce Richardson—who never spoke ill of anybody—had told her of the scandal which people were pleased to imagine existed between the Shannon girl and John Carmody. That seemed to indicate, then, that Kathleen Shannon was no fit woman for any man to know intimately—particularly a person suffering from mental unrest. Lois envisioned the girl: blatant, coarse, indifferent to moral and social standards, superficially clever, niece of a convicted criminal, and speaking the same horrid language which Bob Terry had learned in the penitentiary. It was Kathleen who appealed to Lois as the real menace with which Bob had to contend; and because she could think of nothing except this other woman, she quite naturally minimized the danger of John Carmody.

The door of Bob's room opened and he stepped into the hall. Sight of him restored Lois' courage and she moved forward quickly to his side.

"Bob," she asked, "won't you stay home tonight? I wish to talk with you."

His face was expressionless. "Why?" "I do. It is important. Won't you, please?"

Bob had not yet learned to refuse.

but he asked one question. "Alone?" "Yes—alone. Oh! Bob—aren't you ever going to forgive Dad for his mistake?"

And Bob Terry looked at her with an expression which caused her soul to shiver. It was agate hard, and his voice was like the rasp of a file. What he said was, "No!" She shuddered—then spoke kindly again.

"You will stay home."

"Yes, ma'am." He himself flushed at the "ma'am." "I'll telephone—"

She could not help but overhear his call. It was to Alfred Gregory—State Senator Al Gregory. Lois knew him; a legal associate of Carmody's, well-born, handsome in a coarse, florid way; a loud and fluent orator and a thorough political spellbinder who was overly cautious, utterly unscrupulous, and who was spoken of generally as a gubernatorial possibility. There was grave danger in Bob's association with this man. It seemed that the Carmody web was weaving about him, meshing him inextricably in its invisible strands; Carmody himself, Todd Shannon, who was Carmody's client; Kathleen Shannon, his secretary; Wh—ering Willie Weaver—and now State Senator Al Gregory. Lois listened to the conversation, innocuous enough in itself, but conducted by Bob Terry was a freedom and lack of restraint which had never been apparent in his relationship with her. It was with a feeling of desperation that she led the way into the living room, and seated herself on the lounge beside the young man with the tired eyes.

It was a scene of quiet softness, of soothing domesticity; the big homey room with its handsome, unobtrusive furnishings, the balmy air of spring bore in through the wide-flung windows, a symphony of night sounds. The room breathed gentility and safety and softness—yet she could see that Bob was under a strain as though he could never again fit into such an environment.

She did not equivocate, although her voice was rather strained.

"Bob," she questioned, "why won't you accept that position which Dad offered you?"

His eyes were focused blankly on the opposite wall.

"I don't care to work in that office again."

His unblushing candor helped her.

"Why?"

"Isn't that obvious?"

"Not exactly. Dad is trying to help you."

"I don't want any help. I don't need any."

"But Bob—you do. It has been a long time now—and you've done nothing. Oh! I know you don't need the work for the money it would bring you. When Dad said he owed you an irreparable debt, he meant it. He meant that you could call on him for every cent of his personal fortune. But that isn't the point. You're in an unhealthy mental condition—"

"Is that unnatural?"

"Certainly not. And it isn't unnatural for one to contract pneumonia after exposure—but then, one tries to cure the disease. You have been sitting around thinking, and thinking isn't good for you."

"I got the habit—in prison."

"But you're not in prison now."

Bob—"Is that so?"

"Yes. Oh, can't you see what it is all leading to; this inaction, this refusal to let us help? What are you waiting for?"

"Todd Shannon."

"Your cellmate?"

"The only friend I have. Mr. Carmody says he'll be out any day now. I can talk things over with him. He understands."

"But he's the one person who doesn't understand. He's a criminal Bob—a convicted criminal."

"So was I."

"But you have said that he doesn't even claim to have been innocent. I don't say he's not a loyal friend, and that you shouldn't be fond of him, but I do say that his judgment cannot possibly be good. His judgment is warped."

"It's good enough for me."

"No—you merely think it is. Please try to pull yourself out of this. Work—any kind of work—outside interests—"

She leaned forward earnestly; a cool, slim blonde thing, through whose golden-brown hair the soft light of the reading lamp filtered exquisitely. "Your real friends are here. You are bitter against Dad—I understand that; but he is trying to help. Bruce Richardson is trying to be your friend. Don't you like him?"

There was a touch of animation in the man's set face.

"Yes, Richardson is all right. But he doesn't understand."

"What?"

"Things," he answered vaguely. "The same sort of things you don't understand, either."

"Well, then—myself. I want to help, and if I don't understand, it's because you won't let me. Is that fair, Bob?"

Is it fair to shut me out as though I didn't exist?"

He faced her, a puzzled expression on his countenance. He closed his eyes slowly—and opened them again. It was as though he were seeing her for the first time.

She took shape before his eyes now, and he knew that once he had worshipped Lois Borden from a great distance, and it came to him that here was that same woman pleading with him to accept her friendship.

A warm glow suffused him. He experienced an emotion which he had not known since that ghastly day

"Bob," she said, "won't you stay home tonight?"

three years and a half before, when they had arrested him for embezzlement. He turned away as though blinded by the white light of this revelation that prison had not robbed him of woman consciousness, and he felt the first vague stirring of a desire to please this slender girl.

"I—I do know that you exist," he said slowly. "God knows—" he bit his lip.

"And you will let me help?"

"If you think I'm worth while—yes."

"Worth while?" In her exultation the words were out before she realized, "You are the most worthwhile thing in the world!"

It was not her words, but the timbre of her voice which caused him to turn and gaze straight into her eyes. And there, alone in that room, they realized that they were man and woman and the barriers of the past were momentarily swept away as they sensed that from this moment on their relations could never be other than intensely personal.

Christmas Advice

Judging from the afternoon crowds on the streets, East Liverpool appears to have listened to the pleas of the humane and has really begun to do Christmas shopping and Christmas mailing earlier than formerly, thus easing somewhat the burdens of postal clerks, mail carriers and salespeople. A great deal more remains to be accomplished along these lines, but the beginning is good.

Two weeks from tomorrow is the Yuletide, so but 12 more days for purchasing and mailing gifts remain. Commencing next week the rush will be on. And the wise shopper who wishes to avoid congestion in street cars as well as in stores shall make purchases between 10 A. M. and 5 P. M., the dull period of the day.

And there are other ways to take the overwork out of the holiday season and leave more energy for enjoyment, as a writer on household economics suggests. One of her suggestions concerns the housewife, the other is for everybody.

To the former she says: "Place an order now for the staple groceries for the rest of the month, so that busy grocers won't have to deliver things like soap and starch when they need to deliver cranberries and nuts and candies." That requires forethought and planning, but it will undoubtedly add to domestic peace and happiness as well as to the grocers' efficiency in the rush days ahead.

The other suggestion is that everyone make a special effort to look blooming and happy in the street car, on the streets, in the stores. There is double magic in this. Naturally a fairly alert and cheerful expression is pleasanter for fellow workers and fellow-shoppers than a tired, dispirited, worried one. Furthermore—try this and prove it for yourself—the consciously cheerful expression actually helps to lessen physical fatigue.

After all, Christmas is a season of joy, of happy giving, of doing for others. Some of our modern notions have tended to make it more burdensome than joyful, but the wise person, with Christmas in his heart, will heed this advice.

Injuns And History

Now the redskins are protesting that there is too much "pale-face propaganda" in American history. A group of Indians, taking their cue from the mayor of Chicago, have started out on the literary warpath.

Their race has never had a square deal in our histories, the Indians say, any more than it has in business dealings. They insist that their wars with the whites were all forced on them by seizure of their lands and other acts of provocation. The whites in many cases tried to exterminate them, and they naturally retaliated by trying to exterminate the white. In doing so, they maintain, they were no more "blood-thirsty" than the whites were—or as much.

Take the matter of scalping, for instance. They declare that this was not an Indian custom at all, but that they learned it from the white settlers, who demanded Indian scalps as proof that their enemies had been killed. The "parsimonious pilgrims," these history-minded Indians say, "paid bounties on scalps only if both ears were attached."

As for massacres, they claim no monopoly. Whites massacred Indians, they say, at least as much as Indians massacred whites. They point to the Battle of Wounded Knee, in which many Indians, men, women and children, were slaughtered by white soldiers. Even Custer's massacre, they explain, was started by Custer himself, who fired the first shot.

Well, Well! These pesky redskins seem peskier and redder than ever. Can't they even have the decency to leave self-righteous white folks with a clear conscience? And will they keep prodding us until we do them justice along with George Washington?

If it must be done, let Big Bill Thompson do it. He started the trouble.

Five-Day Ad Record

The amazing record of sustained interest and curiosity that gripped the public for months while it awaited the new Ford car was only one phase of a remarkable advertising campaign. Another was the newspaper advertising that immediately preceded and accompanied the first showing of the new cars.

For five days full-page advertisements were carried in about 2,000 daily newspapers in the United States and Canada. This sets a record. The total cost was $1,300,000. That does not include the money spent by local Ford dealers—estimated at from $250,000 to $600,000.

The Ford Motor company always has done most of its advertising in newspapers and magazines. It has never taken to billboards, and it is not expected that it will do so now. It is rumored that radio advertising may be started, though no plans have been announced.

Obviously it is in newspaper advertising that Ford has great confidence.

Maybe the trouble with farming is too much efficiency. Two million farmers have quit in the last six years, and yet there's too much food produced.

From a celebrated murder case in Cincinnati, one gathers the impression that it's quite meritorious to go crazy and kill one's wife.

In The Bundle Toting Season—

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—The Bowery struggles bravely to throw off its cloak of squalor. And in the past three years has made more progress than all other streets. While it still has the glowering manner of the down-trodden here and there the new and opulent touches peep through.

The Bowery, in many ways, is New York's most distinctive street. It stands out like one of Hogarth's slim etchings. Next door to where a miserable humanity tries to sleep in lodging-house cubicles will be a glittering cafeteria dazzling with lights.

Or next door to a dimly greasy mission lading out soup to shuffling outcasts will be a radiant flower store selling orchids. Always the effort of the Bowery is to lift its head. Its upstairs 25 cent hotels have such names as the Plaza, the Ritz and the Chatham.

Across the street from where "students" in a barber college attempt to remove dirty gray stubbles from dry leathery cheeks is a beauty parlor called "The Aphrodite"—flashing with mirrors and white with a marbled magnificence. For the Bowery is not all poverty.

It has millionaires—often richer than residents of Park avenue. One sees movies criss-crossed with gaudy posters of thrillers, six-for-a-quarter post card photos, sawdust hash houses with window chalked menus and then one sweeps up to the Bowery Savings Bank—one of the richest financial institutions in the world.

The Bowery has lost its swing-door saloons and the law and rule of the bangstarter. But in its cellars are still rancid dives with odors that cannot be conquered by formaldehyde. Rot gut whiskey and third-rail gin are still served to the blinde stiffs.

Tattooing parlors near Houston street floss up the arms of kobs. Penny arcades ring with a shoddy gallery-rat-a-tat and beefy blondes flash spangled tights in burlesque halls. But the Bowery improves—slowly but surely.

Chatham Square, the doorway to Chinatown, is at the southern end of the Bowery and Cooper Union at the other. Originally it was a cow path to the Bowerie—the farm given that name and owned by Peter Stuyvesant, the last of the Dutch Governors of New Netherlands.

HASKIN'S LETTER

National Thrift Week.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 10.—Announcement comes from the National Thrift Committee that plans are well under way for the biggest and most impressive celebration of National Thrift Week next month that the country has known since the thrift movement was started ten years ago. Practically every city, town, and village in the United States, and many rural community centers as well, will participate and it is expected that many thousands of new converts to thrift beliefs and practices will be made.

National Thrift Week is described as an economic movement based on the principle that thrift is a fundamental of success, prosperity, and happiness. "Seven days with a purpose." The movement was inaugurated by the Y. M. C. A. and is now supported by 48 other national, civic, religious, commercial, and educational organizations, including such as the Savings Division of the United States Treasury Department, the Post Office Department, the American Red Cross, the National Education Association, the United States Chamber of Commerce, the American Bankers Association, the Federal Council of Churches, the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, the Association of Life Insurance Presidents, and the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

The famous "bread line" of the Bowery passed out a year after prohibition although bread and coffee are still served to those who attend nightly service in missions and "flap" in dingy back rooms.

The most curious sight in Chinatown is a funeral procession. On the hearse sits a man who throws showers of printed prayers. These, fluttering in the wind, are to confuse the devils. At the grave there is left for the dead a sumptuous meal consisting of roast pig, chicken and rice and the corners of the grave are sealed with red wax—also to keep out devils. Funny people—these Chinese.

In the elevator of a building that houses a famous woman astrologist, two sacks of mail were in the corner. "She gets that much mail every day," said the operator.

Movie and stage people are said to be the most consistent patrons of the astrological parlors. Wall Street financiers are also steady customers.

A young lady walked across 42nd street yesterday with a cub bear on a leash. I wonder what they will think up next. On second thought I don't believe I care much.

This day is known as National Thrift or Bank Day and each of the six days that follows is devoted to some thrifty enterprise. This year the opening day comes on Tuesday. A Ten-Point Thrift Creed.

The national committee directing the movement has adopted what is called "The Ten-Point Thrift Creed," or "Ten Rules for a Successful and Happy Life." They might also be termed the modern ten commandments for those who would so live that their temporal affairs would always be satisfactorily adjusted.

They are: Work and earn; make a budget; record expenditures; have a bank account; carry life insurance; own your own home; make a will; invest in safe securities; pay bills promptly; and share with others.

Governors of States, members of Congress, mayors, and other men in public life have endorsed the thrift movement and given it their active support, but it is well understood that the most effective cooperation in selling the thrift idea to the public

APOLLO MALE CHORUS CONCERT FOR PIANO FUND NETS $100

Appreciative Audience Hears Excellent Program in First Presbyterian Church—Rev. H. J. Swan Visiting Soloist.

Approximately $100, which will be used in paying for the grand piano recently installed in the church, was realized from the concert given in the First Presbyterian church last evening by the Apollo Male Chorus. A large and appreciative audience attended.

The program was featured by seven numbers from the composer, Daniel Protheroe, of Chicago, which were sung by the chorus. Solo parts were rendered by Mrs. Helen Boyd Sant, soprano, and Rev. Harry J. Swan, tenor, of Albany, N. Y. W. A. MacDonald directed the chorus.

Instrumental music was given by Mrs. J. F. Calhoun, organist, and Miss Jessie A. Hall, pianist, who offered a duet, "The Harp of St. Cecilia," especially arranged for the concert.

One of the features was the tenor and bass duet sung by O. F. Johnson and J. W. Newman. The Apollo trio, John Davis, Arthur White and J. W. Newman, sang four comedy numbers which added variety to the program during the second part of the concert. The final number, "Castilla," was one of the hits of the evening. Negro spirituals and "Call John!" were also pleasing numbers.

The chorus will present the final concert of their second season early in the spring. Engagements have been booked by the chorus after the first of the year, including a radio program from one of the Pittsburgh broadcasting stations.

Members of the chorus today expressed their thanks to patrons of the concert for their interest and support. The chorus will offer special music at both the Sunday morning and evening services in the Presbyterian church. Rev. Mr. Swan, Albany, will preach at both services.

Philathea Class Gives Yule Party.

Christmas exchange party for the Philathea class of the First Baptist church was held Thursday evening in the social room of the church. A short business session was in charge of the teacher, Mrs. Elizabeth Fleming, after which social hours were spent with Yuletide games and guessing contests.

Refreshments were served by the social committee, of which Miss Cas-tie Southwick was chairlady. Covers were arranged for 25 guests.

Ladies' League Elects Officers.

A hot roast beef dinner was served at noon Wednesday by members of the Ladies' League of the First Church of Christ, after which a short business session was held, during which the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. William Lucas; first vice-president, Mrs. B. EDWARD GRIMM IS HELD ON FORGERY COUNT

Auto Mechanic's Case
Goes to Grand Jury.

BOND IS $1,000

Charges Filed by Robert McHenry and A. O. Anderson.

Edward Grimm, 33, Rochester, Pa., automobile mechanic, arrested at Middletown, Wednesday, upon forgery charges, was held for grand jury action upon two counts filed by Robert McHenry of the Victory Motor Sales company and A. O. Anderson, when he faced Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley this morning. His bond was fixed at $1,000 on each charge.

Grimm was brought back to East Liverpool last night by Chief of Police McDermott and Sheriff Wright. The Paige coupe, which the prisoner is alleged to have purchased from McHenry on a forged note, was driven back by Eugene Larkin, who accompanied the chief and the sheriff to Middletown.

Grimm was arrested by Middletown police when he called at the post office for a letter. On his way to jail he attempted to escape from the police amid a fusillade of shots. One of the bullets struck the side of a building and ricocheted, striking Grimm in the breast. Believing that he had been wounded he surrendered but at the jail it was discovered that the bullet had not even brought the blood. Grimm disappeared from East Liverpool about a month ago after he is alleged to have cashed a number of forged checks and obtained the auto mobile from McHenry, on a bogus note for $450.

Chief McDermott received a telephone call from a Beaver Falls bank today, stating that Grimm had "put over" a $325 forged note at that institution several weeks ago. The chief declared that another forgery count would be placed against the prisoner today.

MRS. E. D. WILSON, AGED 63, DEAD

Mrs. Cora Wilson, 63, wife of E. D. Wilson, died today in her home, Canton street, Gardendale, after a long illness of a complication of diseases. Mrs. Wilson had been a resident of East Liverpool for 25 years. She was a member of the Pennsylvania Avenue Methodist Episcopal church and president of the Gardendale mission. She leaves five daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Almy, Bethesda; Mrs. Grace Welch, Mrs. Samuel Howell, Mrs. Anna Thorn and Miss Edwina Wilson, student at Wollaston college, Mass. She is also survived by three sisters, Mrs. H. E. Rutledge and Mrs. E. W. Dunlap, East Liverpool, and Mrs. H. B. Rutledge, Chester.

HOLD TWO MEN IN COP'S DEATH

RUTLER, Pa., Dec. 10.—State police here today held two men in connection with the killing of Policeman Henry Clemens, of Youngstown, O., and continued a search for two others, whose names were withheld.

Those arrested here gave their names as Cecil Wayne Bell, 20, of Anadale, Pa., and Ole Ross 22, of Beaver Falls, Pa. The men were arrested by Sgt. M. J. Crowley, of Troop D.

Bury "Rage" Victim

badly battered body has been discovered in the bedroom of their cottage at Perry. Mrs. West then collapsed. Questioned by authorities, she stuck to her alibi—she had been in Cleveland playing bridge, when the murder was committed. Then, a simple question by Sheriff Rasmussen—"Why did you leave the back door open?"—and the girlish widow "broke" and confessed.

Her attorney declares he can prove that West often abused her, that she was ill Tuesday night, and that she has an explanation of her action which would bring a favorable verdict "by any jury in the nation."

In marked contrast to the grief-stricken relatives of the murder victim, Mrs. West was reported in gay spirits this morning. One reason advanced for her apparent happiness was a report that the youthful widow might be tried on either a second degree murder, or manslaughter charge, that an effort might even be made to obtain her release on bond. Her attorney, Richard Bostwick, of Chardon, Ohio, refused to comment on the report.

Killers Sentenced

Plead for Light Sentence.
"If your honor please," said McCarter, "after the jury returned a verdict in this case we asked for time, before imposition of sentence, to investigate certain material information which had come to our attention. We have not to date been able to crystallize that information in such a form as to be able to present it to your honor."

McCarter then explained that he would make the plea for a new trial later. Edson Hedges, counsel for Beach, pleaded for a light sentence, stating that what "would be light punishment for many another man would be very heavy punishment indeed for this man" because of Beach's 57 years.

Beach Is Calm.
Beach was then asked to stand. He started quietly at the bench while Justice Campbell pronounced sentence: "Beach," the judge said, "a jury has found you guilty of the crime of voluntary manslaughter and the sentence of the court is that you be confined in state's prison, at hard labor, for a period of 10 years."

Beach, hands folded before him, stood very straight. He maintained his self-possession throughout the ordeal, and sat down afterward without a sign of emotion.

"Mrs. Lillendahl, will you rise," said the court.

The widow stood up very suddenly. She was not as calm as Beach. There were no tears, but her face twitched, and she seemed unsteady on her feet. The same formula of sentence was repeated.

Widow Weakens.
As the widow was led from the courtroom she weakened visibly. She was supported by the sheriff, who held her tightly. Her eyes filled with tears, and she was barely able to walk. She shuddered as the sheriff pushed her gently toward the jail.

Beach, who followed, was in marked contrast. He held his head up, and walked with a firm, brisk step. He almost ran down the underground passage leading to the cell block, looking straight ahead. The two prisoners must remain in the jail here for two days, but not for longer than 20 days. Sheriff Chisno said he would be glad to keep them here for that length of time before sending them to the state prison at Trenton, "so that they can be near home for Christmas."

Medal of Honor for Lindy.

TODAY

It. Other good men are ready to do the same. The wife will not choose to sell their stocks because Mr. Coolidge does not choose to run.

An unfortunate Hindu woman attempting to perform the rite of suttee threw herself on a funeral pyre beside the corpse of her husband and was burned so badly before British police could rescue her that she died. Now 1,500 Hindus fight to get charred fragments of the woman's dress. Hundreds of rupees are paid for a small piece supposed to be sacred.

BRITAIN is sending a commission to India headed by Sir John Simon to see about helping India toward self government. The help should have begun 5,000 years back.

HOW can you give self government to a people in whose literature the word liberty does not appear in 5,000 years, to millions who believe that little girls 8 and 9 years old should be married to middle aged men and that when the old husband dies the young woman should be burned alive with the husband's miserable corpse? That's a long way from self government.

AN intensely interesting suggestion from Gov. Al Smith would take the power of paroling prisoners, sentencing and putting them on probation from judges and transfer it to a board of expert psychiatrists, criminologists and penologists. Such a board might diminish crime instead of merely sending criminals to be made more efficient in the penitentiary crime universities.

$50,000 FIRE IN OHIO CITY

Forty Autos Destroyed
in Mt. Vernon Blaze.

MT. VERNON, O., Dec. 10.—Fire of undetermined origin, which razed the C. M. Thorpe garage here last night and destroyed about 40 automobiles, caused losses totaling about $50,000, according to estimates of the owners today.

Residents of the town formed a bucket brigade and prevented the blaze from spreading. The village waterworks department was in disuse at the time, due to repairs to pumps and the fire fighting equipment was useless.

Fire trucks from Mt. Vernon, Alexandria and Columbus were rushed to the scene, but could give but little assistance. An attempt to pump water from a nearby creek also failed. Most of the automobiles destroyed belonged to residents of Centerburg and that vicinity.

HOOVER'S FRIENDS CLAIM 300 VOTES

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—The enthusiastic supporters of Herbert Hoover were voicing private claims today that he will go into the Republican national convention at Kansas City next June with a minimum of 300 votes on the first ballot. It will take 545 to nominate, as there will be 1089 delegates in the convention.

They base their claims on public and private promises that have come to them since President Coolidge and Charles Evans Hughes have eliminated themselves from the 1928 picture. The past week saw the Republican national committee meet in Washington and from these political managers, the Hoover lieutenants claim to have secured a cross-country view into Republican thought, that one prominent Hoover backer described as "very reassuring."

JURORS MAY CALL FOR BALLOTS

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 10.—A grand jury has the right to require the production of ballots, in the custody of election officials, in connection with the grand jury's investigation of alleged crimes and offenses. This ruling was given today by Attorney General Edward C. Turner to Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown.

The ruling relates to the grand jury investigation which is being conducted at Toledo, at the request of Governor Vic Donahey, under direction of Attorney General Turner. The probe deals with charges of registration frauds last fall in Toledo.

Howell is Held

Bank Messenger Plot.
From their place of temporary hiding, the gang, it is said, learned that a messenger was to visit the Antonucci bank, Friday, with a large sum of money. The plan, police claim, was to stop the messenger before he reached the bank, force him into a room near the scene of the contemplated hold-up and from that point make their escape. Memo Antonucci, cashier of the bank, admitted to Steubenville police that a large sum of money to be used in cashing checks for the mill men was received at the bank by messenger yesterday.

Suspected of being one of Howell's confederates, Lee Lester, Steubenville, was taken into custody yesterday. Lester denied even knowing Howell, but later admitted having met him.

Chief McDermott said that Jefferson county authorities are seeking a complete account of Howell's past for their records before turning him over to Columbiana county officials. Although he is under parole from the Moundsville penitentiary with an eight-year term over his head, Ohio officials will not release him to West Virginia authorities. The charges for which he is wanted in Columbiana county will mean prison sentences of not less than 20 years in event of conviction, police declared.

80 Men Are Adrift On Wind-Raked Lake

Hope of Rescuing Crews of Three Steamers Increases as Weather
Moderates.

SAULT STE MARIE, Mich., Dec. 10.—Moderation in the weather today increased hope of rescuing the crews of two wrecked lake steamers, and probably that of a third, totaling 80 men.

As a result of calm winds and rising temperatures, Captain A. F. Glavin and six members of the Eagle harbor coast guard left their station at daybreak, a surf boat in an attempt to rescue the 23 men on the steamer Albatross, which has been grounded at Keweenaw point in Lake Superior for 48 hours.

Battled by high winds and turbulent waters all yesterday, tugs failed to reach the freighter Agawa, with its crew of 22, wrecked off Advance point, near Manitowish Island, in Lake Huron. Efforts to make a rescue were to be resumed today under more favorable conditions.

PENNSY ROUTE 51 YEARS OLD

P. R. R. Celebrates Opening of Allegheny Tracks.

The seventy-fifth anniversary of the opening of the first all-rail route between the eastern seaboard and the headwaters of the Ohio river at Pittsburgh, an event of December 10, 1852, will be celebrated by a radio broadcast from the studio of Station KDKA, today from 10 to 11:30 p. m. The program will include an historical talk by Vice President Edward T. Whittier and musical specialties by employees of the Pennsylvania.

Foremost in the musical program will be a radio band of 26 pieces composed of Pennsylvania employees at Pittsburgh, Conway, Pitcairn, Dennison, New Castle, Altoona and Columbus, O. This band has been organized especially for the diamond jubilee program and has been in rehearsal under the direction of Victor Saudek for two months.

Vocal specialties include two numbers by Elizabeth Lloyd Kirkpatrick, soprano, with the Red Arrow male quartet. Solos will be given by Miss Edith White, contralto, and Miss Loretta Eifler, soprano, each number including violin obligato by Miss Bonita Gibb. George Leonard will have the violin obligato to one number by the Red Arrow quartet.

The event being celebrated was of major significance in the history of America, and of vital importance to the industrial development of Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio, and westward.

It meant that traffic, originating in, or destined to, the Middle West, could move more rapidly between the headwaters of the Ohio river and the Atlantic seaboard. This permitted the economic life of the country to take an epochal stride forward, and incidentally conferred special benefits on Pittsburgh and Philadelphia.

It also meant that new impetus and encouragement was lent to railroad construction through the force of example: The Allegheny mountains, the first formidable barrier to the spread of railroads across the continent, had been surmounted.

STRAND OFFERS 'BIRDS OF PREY'

Priscilla Dean
Stars in Picture
Monday.

George Bronson Howard's colorful story of the underworld, "Birds of Prey," at the Strand theatre Monday and Tuesday in an effective photoplay produced by Columbia Pictures. The realistic settings, swift action and capable acting makes this splendidly entertaining melodrama.

The story concerns itself with a gang of clever crooks, who discover that a prominent banker has a criminal record, and demand a price for their silence. In turn, the banker, (William Tooker) arranges with them to stage a robbery of his bank so that his shortage may not be uncovered. Then, the girl member of the gang (Priscilla Lane) has a sudden change in love with the banker's son, (Hugh Allan) will not go on with the game. She tells the young man that he must no longer love her because she is a thief. The ensuing action follows quickly and surely up to the exciting climax in which the gang, and the banker lose their lives.

William Dean, the star, gives a dramatic portrayal of the silent crook. As H. H. Wayne she shows her mastery of this type of role.

Miss Dean receives splendid support from the other members of the cast. Gustav Von Seyffertitz, as Foxy, the leader of the gang, presents another of his memorable character portrayals. Sidney Bracey, as Gaston, a Crook with a sense of humor, accents himself with credit in a comedy role.

The direction was in the capable hands of Wm. James Craft, who made the most of his opportunities. To those who like terse, throbbing action, plenty of thrills, suspense and that sort of thing, "Birds of Prey" is recommended as a satisfying entertainment.

DIVORCE CASES
HEARD BY COURT

Decisions Handed Down
Yesterday by Judge
W. F. Lones.

On the grounds of gross neglect of duty and habitual drunkenness for three years, the court has granted a decree of divorce to Arlene K. Wolf. The custody of a minor child has been awarded to the plaintiff, and an order has been made requiring Wolf to pay his former wife $25 per month for the support of his child.

Mabel Higgenbotham obtained a divorce from her husband William Higgenbotham on the grounds of gross neglect of duty and three years habitual drunkenness. The plaintiff has been restored to her maiden name, Mabel Plannigan.

There was a hearing on the motion for temporary alimony in the divorce action filed in common pleas court by Daisy Parker against her husband, Charles S. Parker, and an order has been entered requiring the defendant to pay the plaintiff $50 on or before Jan. 5th and also $50 per month in semi-monthly installments of $25 each until further order of court.

The restraining order issued when this case was first filed against the Morgan Engineering Co., of Alliance and also the City Savings Bank and Trust Co., has been dissolved by the court.

Emmett Densmore has been ordered by the court to pay his wife Gladys Densmore $50 as temporary alimony within 30 days and in addition to pay her $5 per week. This follows a hearing on the motion for temporary alimony asked for in the divorce action filed by Mrs. Densmore against her husband.

Charging that her husband had ordered her from their home, and accusing him of gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty, Linnie Langer, through her counsel Fouls and Stevenson of East Liverpool has set up these charges in her action for divorce from her husband, Samuel Langer. The couple were married at Lisbon, July 7th, 1925. The plaintiff asks that she be restored to her maiden name, that of Linnie Wagner.

The Way of the World

BY GROVE PATTERSON

RELIGION.

It does not make much difference what church you belong to. As men and women grow up in their minds that fact becomes more evident. But that you have religion—the feeling for religion—that is very important. "It is well said, in every sense," exclaimed Thomas Carlyle, "that a man's religion is the chief fact with regard to him."

It was Carlyle's opinion that it is not at all a matter of church or creed, but it is "the thing a man does practically lay to heart, and know for certain, concerning his vital relations to this mysterious universe, and his duty and destiny there."

THE GREAT LACK.

It was this same Carlyle—himself a great man—who said: "If we will think of it, no time need have gone to ruin, could it have found a man great enough, a man wise and good enough; wisdom to discern truly what the time wanted, valor to lead it on the right road thither."

The Great Lack of today is the lack of Great Men.

ROOSEVELT.

Roosevelt was a great man. He was not great merely because he had unusual qualities of mind and unusual physical energy. He was great because he had the courage to go ahead when he saw there was a place to go. He had the courage to take a chance when he believed he was right. He did things that others only think about doing. There are men today with the intellectual qualities of Roosevelt—but they only think about doing things.

LAW NO CURE-ALL.

Some time ago a New York congressman introduced a bill to have the government "regulate baseball." Congress and all the state legislatures are still full of men who believe all that humanity ever needs is a new law. Men and women who are made good and kept good merely by law are a cheap lot who do no more than take up room on the earth. Real people are inspired and guided by higher motives.

These same congressmen and state legislators feel that the folks back home will think they are loafing if they don't introduce bills. Some day the home folks will give a gold medal to a representative of the people who has served many terms and who can make affidavit that he never introduced a bill.

MERELY NUMBERS.

A scientist observes that nations to expand must maintain a rate of four children to the family. Supposing they don't. That's little to worry about. Expansion by mere numbers.

WASHINGTON
STEWART'S LETTER.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. — Senator George W. Norris, of Nebraska, will make a big fight in Washington this winter to end "lame duck" congresses.

To do it will take a constitutional amendment. That is what the senator will demand.

It's advertised as "progressive," and to hear a progressive argue it, it sounds so. Maybe, too, it is. Norris, a Progressive himself, undoubtedly so considers it.

However, it's interesting to note that there are old-fashioned lawmakers who insist it's just the reverse—that it's reactionary.

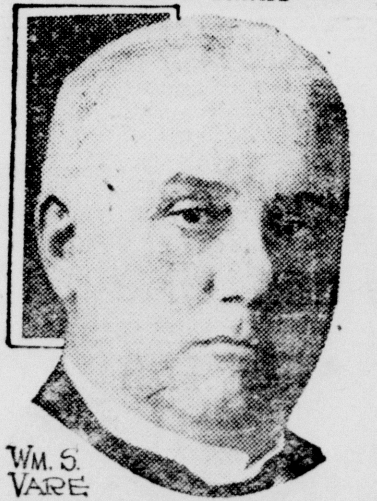

A NEW congress, as we all know, is elected every two years—a third of the senators and all the representatives.

Election day's the first Tuesday after the first Monday, every "even" year. On the first Monday in December congress meets. But not the

Two Heavyweight Title Scraps In 1928 Planned By Rickard

TUNNEY AND DEMPSEY ON SCHEDULE AGAIN

Reported Third Episode of Championship Serial Will be Staged in Chicago After Gene's Opening Fight.

By Davis J. Walsh.
NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—There will be two heavyweight championship matches next summer, just as our Mr. Tunney predicted, the only difference being that Tex Rickard will promote both of them and Jack Dempsey will appear in only one, the last. Incidentally, it will be Dempsey's only start of the campaign, there being no disposition on his part or anybody else's to give any elimination contests a passing thought.

This was the information that came to the writer today from a source that just cannot be ignored. Apparently, the business is on.

The elimination tourney, so called,

Would seem to be about over before it starts with all contenders considered to be eliminated except Jack Sharkey and Tom Heeney. Why the forerunners in their cases? Well, they have to send someone in there with Tunney for that first championship bout. My information is that someone will be the winner of the Sharkey-Heeney fight next month.

This fact, too, is said to have furnished the answer for Paulino's sudden break with Rickard and his announcement that he intends to tour the country. It seems that he was to have had more time than matches under Rickard's patronage.

Warm-up Bout in July.
The program, as outlined to me, calls for the warm-up championship of the world at the Yankee Stadium in July. Then, it being assumed that our champion can and will beat Sharkey or Heeney as may please his fancy, it will be on to Chicago for the third episode of the Dempsey-Tunney serial. This, it is said, will take place in September.

No trouble is anticipated in making the public accept Dempsey as the challenger, as is and without further ado. In fact, the public seems to feel that Dempsey is the real champion, anyhow, basing his theory on that much discussed long count over Tunney in the seventh round.

This discussion, by the way, has resulted in the feeling here that a third Dempsey-Tunney fight will outdraw the second, the idea being that an enraged citizen usually meets the box office man coming to work. The number of hordes who think Dempsey got the worst of it are legion, as we say at the old hitching post.

Therefore, Rickard may be pardoned for believing that a third fight is a vital necessity. He may even be excused for a revived hope that he really will get that three million dollar gate this time.

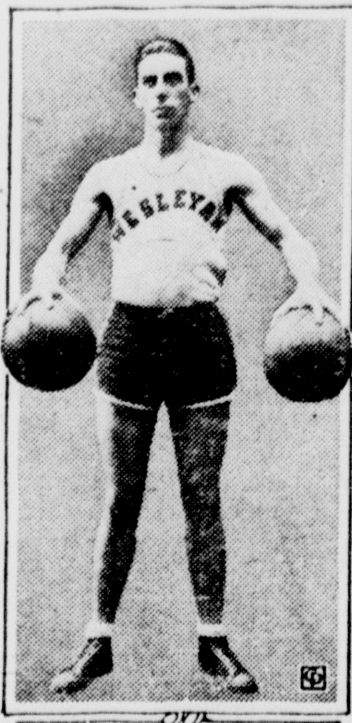

It might be mentioned, in closing, that Rickard never yet has stated that Dempsey will engage in an elimination bout. At least, no one has caught him at it.

Tennis Clash Over Cup Play Looms Today

Tilden Takes Issue With Davis Cup Heads.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—A clash between the Davis cup committee and William T. Tilden 2nd was in prospect today when the executive committee of the United States Lawn Tennis association was to take up the important question of Davis cup zone play. Tilden believes that the United States should challenge for the cup next year in the European zone, so that American players may have sufficient time to become acclimatized abroad. He maintains they would then be at the top of their game against the French, should they reach the challenge round.

The Davis cup committee holds that inasmuch as many of the younger American stars are in college, it would be impossible for them to go abroad early enough to compete in the elimination matches.

BIG TEN TEAMS IN WARM-UP TILTS

CHICAGO, Dec. 10.—Eight western conference basketball teams will get into action tonight in warming up games designed to put the varsity fives on edge for the Big Ten competition which begins January 7th.

The games scheduled for tonight are: Monmouth at Chicago, Wabash at Northwestern, Coe at Wisconsin, Knox at Illinois, Ohio Wesleyan at Ohio State, Franklin at Indiana, Michigan State at Michigan and Cornell at Minnesota.

Michigan, winner of last season's championship, is favored by domestics to repeat again this season. Purdue and Indiana rate as strong contenders. The series of practice games will serve as a basis for judging the championship timber.

Feathers In Feature Go on F.O.E. Card

Cannall-Kusic Battle Dated for Eight Rounds.

On Monday night in their own auditorium the Eagles' lodge will turn loose an assortment of glove slingers ranging from feathers to light heavies in the opening program of their winter fight revival. With an eight-round main bout featuring a pair of likely entries in the 126 pound brigade, the lodgemen are promising an evening of real entertainment for the boys who like to see the tin ears do their stuff.

Tom McDonough, matchmaker, anticipates plenty of action when Pete Cannall, Youngstown, and Johnny Kusic, of Philadelphia answer the bell in the eight round star bout of the card.

Cannall ordinarily is one of the rough, boring in type of fighters that the fans like to see. There are few idle minutes in the ring when the Youngstown Italian is doing his stuff and unless Kusic goes his fastest clip he'll take the short end of the decision back to the City of Brotherly Love.

Kusic is a tall, slim chap, possessing a keen boxing knowledge. At Lippe, the veteran Philadelphia fight manager, rates him as one of the leading feather prospects in eastern Pennsylvania.

The six-round semi-windup brings two more feathers into the ring—Billy Wallace, of Youngstown, and Johnny Pollock, of Conneville, Pa. While little is known around here of Wallace, boxing sharks around the Steel City rate him a fast, game boy and a nice puncher. Pollock is a tried and true veteran of many a hard fought battle, including encounters with such opponents as Snake Aguilard, Tommy Crowley, Patsy Young, U. S. Carpenter, Joe Ryan, Johnny Fundy, Young Piazza, Young Rudy, Jimmy Perry, Frankie Porto and others in the division.

The remainder of the card features three promising amateur scraps.

HAVANA OPENS WINTER RACING

Huggins Says He'll Strengthen Yankees

Wants Pitcher and an Outfielder; Denies Fletcher Rumor.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Although the New York Yankees won the 1927 American league pennant by nineteen games, Manager Miller Huggins says he wants to "strengthen" the world's champions by acquiring a pitcher and an outfielder. He has his eye on George Uhle of the Indians, Ted Lyons and Alphonse Thomas of the White Sox, and Charles Ruffing of the Red Sox, but doesn't think he can get Uhle.

As trading material Huggins declares he would dispose of an outfielder, two infielders, two pitchers and a catcher. He said that Bob Meusel would not be traded and that neither Joe Dugan nor Urban Shocker had been mentioned in his trading conversations at Dallas, Tex.

The New York manager disclosed that Billy Evans of the Cleveland club had not said anything to him in Dallas about signing Arthur Fletcher, coach of the Yankees, to manage the Indians.

New Eastern Grid Group Is Planned

Army, Harvard to Meet First Time in 18 Years.

WEST POINT, Dec. 10.—A new eastern football alignment is indicated here by the announcement that the Army would meet Harvard in football in 1928. The Crimson is on the Cadets' schedule for the first time in eighteen years, completing a loose conference of Yale, Harvard, Princeton, Pennsylvania, West Point and Annapolis which promises to exert a great influence on titular claims along the eastern seaboard next fall.

According to the schedule released by the Army, the Cadets will face Harvard, Yale and Navy. Yale will face Harvard, Princeton and Army, and Harvard meeting Penn, Army and Yale. The Navy has engagements with Penn and the Army, while the Quakers will do battle with Harvard and the Navy. To stand at the head of this group will mean a great deal next year, and will probably give the team on top a goodly claim on the eastern crown.

The Army schedule calls for the soldiers to play nine games next fall, and it is one of the toughest schedules ever compiled for a cadet eleven. In addition to Yale, Harvard and the Navy, Notre Dame is also met, and the powerful Southern Methodist eleven, which was the sensation of the southwest, has also been added, making five major engagements for the Cadets.

The location of the Navy game is still in doubt, but will be played on November 24, the Saturday preceding Thanksgiving. Notre Dame is met in New York again. The Navy has the choice of the field next fall, which will be either the Baltimore stadium or Franklin field in Philadelphia.

AT BUFFALO.—Young Stribling, of Georgia, won decision over Lou Scozza, Buffalo (10).

Jack Manley, Syracuse, won decision over Dorey Shimar, Williamsport, Pa.

What the —!

Looks like old Harry himself, but it's only a German boxer peeping from behind the new mask which pugs in Berlin use when sparring. Fighting Frits must take his beauty seriously.

FAVOR LOUGHRAN OVER SLATTERY

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Much of the glamour usually associated with a heavyweight championship fight was attaching itself today to the coming fifteen round bout here on Monday between Jimmy Slattery, recognized as light heavyweight champion by the National Boxing association, and Tommy Loughran, the New York State Boxing commission's candidate for the title.

LISBON PASSERS SEEK GAMES HERE

The Lisbon New Ford basketball team would like to schedule games in and around East Liverpool, to be played in East Liverpool. This team boasts an all-star roster with such performers as Sexton and Burnip at forwards; Manges, Ohio Northern, center; and a reliable set of guards in Haun and Crook. Managers can write Randy Sexton, 117 East Pine street, Lisbon, for games.

WHITE SOX BUY TEXAS PITCHER

HERR JOESTING TO TAKE BRIDE

Berlenbach, K.O.'d, Packs Away Gloves

Bows to Jack Delaney in Sixth Round.

CHICAGO, Dec. 10.—Jack Delaney, the retired light heavyweight champion of the world, last night again salted Paul Berlenbach away, undoubtedly for the last time. The Bridgeport slugger won by a technical knockout in the sixth round.

It was Delaney's first appearance in Chicago, and he registered with a bang. Although the Delaney-Berlenbach act is a trifle shop-worn, the bout went over big here, and justly so. The boys fought every second with everything they had.

The shifty Delaney had too many guns for the once formidable Astoria assassin. Jack tore into him at the first gong and weakened him with terrific rights to the jaw. But not until the third round did Paul go down under the assault. Then he arose slowly and walked in for more.

The fourth and fifth rounds were duplicates of the other three. It was only a question of how much punishment Berlenbach could take. He landed several times with that once deadly left, but it lacked steam and if Delaney was hurt by any of them he gave no evidence of the fact.

Starting the sixth, Delaney unleashed his pile driving right, alternating with right crosses and vicious upper cuts. Berlenbach went down, but wouldn't take the count. He staggered to his feet and waded in. Delaney could be heard advising Referee Jimmy Gardner to stop the fight. Gardner hesitated while Delaney uncoiled a few more withering rights. Paul's knees were sagging when the referee called a halt.

It was the fourth meeting between Berlenbach and Delaney. The latter has stopped him twice and on another occasion won a decision in 15 rounds. Berlenbach holds one 15-round decision over Delaney.

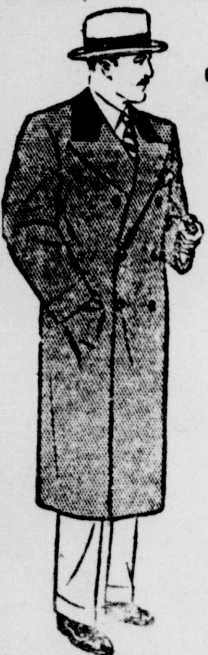

After it was all over, Berlenbach packed away his gloves carefully saying he would keep them as a souvenir of his last fight. Paul said this was positively his last ring appearance.

MISS TALMADGE AT AMERICAN

Norma Stars in Screen Version of "Camille."

Generally acclaimed as the greatest triumph of the speaking stage's foremost actresses, notably Sarah Bernhardt and Eleanora Duse, "Camille," modernized for the screen, now becomes Norma Talmadge's crowning performance of all time, in the tribute paid to Miss Talmadge by motion picture critics.

Produced by Joseph M. Schenck for First National and directed by Fred Niblo, the modern "Camille" has an unusually strong cast in support of the star.

Gilbert Roland, a young Spanish actor whose portrayal of "Armand," has created a sensation in film, is Miss Talmadge's new leading man. Other players in "Camille" include Alec B. Francis, Rose Dione, Lilyan Tashman, Helen Jerome Eddy, Carmelita Geraghty, Harvey Clark and Tom Ricketts.

The feature, of course, is invested with all the lavishness which always marks a Norma Talmadge vehicle. The towns won't by the star are extremely dazzling.

New effects in beautiful motion picture photography are achieved by Oliver Marsh, chief cameraman during the filming of "Camille." The picture comes next Monday to the American theatre here.

has come from various groups of business men and from the Parent-Teachers Associations. The latter have done their work in the schools, of course, and it is regarded as especially important because habits of thrift, of budgeting expenses, of keeping a careful account of expenditures, of having a bank account, and the like, when inculcated in a school child as a rule become lifetime habits.

How well the work has been done among the school children is illustrated by the report for the 1927 Thrift Week that in an elementary school in Dallas, Texas, 87 per cent of all the pupils carry savings accounts in the city banks, and in six of the rooms of the school every child has such an account. Further reports of the National Committee show that $17,000,000 was saved through school banks last year, of which $14,000,000 belonged to pupils in the elementary grades. In Ashland, Kentucky, where the Parent-Teachers Association has been especially active, more than $18,000 is in savings banks to the credit of school children.

A feature of Thrift Week nearly everywhere it is observed is an essay contest on the subject "Why a Student Should Save Money" or some similar topic. Prizes for these contests are offered by banks, civic organizations, newspapers, and commercial bodies. In Honolulu, Hawaii, last January more than 15,000 students in the public schools participated in such a contest and the winner was Kenneth Chun, a Chinese boy who was a student in the McKinley High School.

Bankers Naturally Interested. Naturally the bankers are more interested in Thrift Week than any other group, because it means building up their deposits and otherwise directly affecting their business. It is true that every element in a community benefits when the people of that community generally are industrious, economical, prompt in meeting their obligations, and wise in their investments, but whatever is good for all the other elements always is to the advantage of the banker whose prosperity is directly in proportion to the prosperity and business soundness of his community.

Accordingly, throughout the country bankers are found in the forefront of the thrift movement. They encourage and stimulate it in every possible way — advertising in the newspapers, making addresses, distributing literature, and even taking entire charge of the week's program. Some of them introduce new and startling methods of calling public attention to the importance of thrift.

In San Francisco, for example, a trust company turned over the entire management and operation of its institution to honor students of the high school during one day of Thrift Week. The students became the officers, heads of departments, tellers, clerks, and bookkeepers for the day and through this experience gained a practical knowledge of banking procedure. At the same time the general public had its attention called to an unusual feature of Thrift Week and the trust company received a great deal of valuable publicity.

What thrift does for the banks of the country is in a degree shown by the statistics relative to savings banks accounts recently compiled by the committee from which it appears that there are now 46,742,240 persons in the United States with savings accounts totaling $24,896,192,000, which means approximately $200 per capita for the entire population.

"The last year," it is stated, "witnessed a growth of about $1,500,000,000 in these accounts with less than 3,000,000 added depositors. This is sure proof that thrift in this country is gaining steadily — sure proof that the bankers are doing their share in the national thrift program. It is safe to assume that 1,000,000 Americans are now saving money who a year ago were neglecting to do so."

Closely allied with the cooperation of the banks is that of the Building and Loan Associations. It is estimated that more than 3,500,000 families are at the present time paying for their homes through these agencies. In 1926 they financed the building or purchase of 530,000 homes, the largest number ever financed in any one year.

With many people, the attitude toward thrift is that indicated by the well-known negro character toward work when he said he wouldn't mind going to work if he could see any pleasure in it. They say they wouldn't mind saving if they could see any good reason for it.

The object of National Thrift Week is to show such people all the reasons there are for cultivating habits of thrift and concomitant good habits.

MIDLAND'S PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH OPENS NEXT WEEK

TWO SESSIONS WILL BE HELD IN NEW MANSE

Trustees Meet Monday; Prayer Services Wednesday.

DEDICATE JAN. 29
Structure of Ruble Stone Erected at $95,000 Cost.

Midland's new Presbyterian church will open next week when two meetings will be held in the recently completed manse, which adjoins the edifice, still in the course of construction.

Special meeting of the board of trustees is scheduled for Monday night, both to be held in the manse, which was occupied by Rev. C. W. Cochran and family Thursday.

Formal dedication of the church is set for Sunday, January 29, preceded by a week of services.

Constructed of heavy ruble stone at a cost of approximately $95,000, the manse and church, which are connected, are situated in Virginia avenue at the head of Park place, overlooking Lincoln park.

Exterior and much interior work on the church edifice are already complete but whether or not the congregation will hold Christmas services in the new auditorium is problematical, it was declared today.

Installation of the Kilgen organ is now under way. Flooring of the main auditorium, placing of pews and other woodwork has not been completed.

With a seating capacity of 275, the auditorium has rich cream-tinted walls and sloping beamed ceiling. Chancel woodwork and pulpit furniture will be of semi-dark wood, matching ceiling beams.

Large stained glass window portraying the figure of Christ surmounts the main entrance. Smaller windows of stained glass are installed along the two sides of the auditorium.

Complete Sunday school unit, including large basement auditorium with stage, several classrooms and pastor's study, occupies the north wing of the structure.

Adjacent to the church on the west is the nine-room manse for the pastor's family. It is constructed of material similar to that used in building the church and is an integral part of the architectural plan.

Reception room, living room, dining room, breakfast nook and kitchen occupy the first floor of the manse. Four bedrooms are on the second floor. Basement contains the heating system and laundry facilities.

Occupancy of the manse caused the
